

Daily Stag

June 10 1996

Volume 4 Issue 1

Newgent, ASPL Troop 962, awakes before breakfast!!!!!!!

Jeremy Newgent got up this morning in time for breakfast, greatly surprising all other staff members. Jeremy is rumored to have said, "I need to be on time," but we don't believe it.

Weather will soon clear up.

Sorry, just kidding.

Participant News Flash: The notebooks contain 2050 little paper tabs.

Earlier today, several mosquitoes were spotted handing out doughnuts and orange juice after biting people.

Scuba lessons will be giving later today in Baden Powell Hall.

Travis Walker and L.J. were married in Las Vegas last night, and are on their way to Oman for their honeymoon. It is also reported that they have had an illegitimate child named Chad.

Wow!! These cookies are good!! Want one? Oh well, their ours and you can't have any. Ha Ha.

What duck is identified by this rule:
five thru ten primary flights striped in

Weather Report: See Above

white. Anyone who can identify this duck, see Mr. Smith.

Hint: it flies and has webbed feet.
Mr. Smith passed his duck test.

Dining flies grow four walls! If you notice any occurrences of this, please inform the staff immediately. We have some science officers standing by to study it.

Pat Day thought he saw the sun yesterday. Don't worry, we have him under surveillance.

Official SPL time is 23:02:57.
Please make a note of it.

We're a grand old staff... oh sorry i thought we were marching.

;ariowu.... oh sorry, we dozed off.