

Daily Stag

June 16, 1994

Volume 1 Issue 4

Well all of us here at the Stag Daily would like to congratulate all of the scouts that won the Nature Game. Oops, I forgot the mass armageddon ended in mutual assured destruction. Hope you all had fun. Actually though there were a lot of fast people that I personally would like to congratulate on their effort. Besides, it was only a game with a meaning.

I would like to take this time to announce that James Williams wanted his name in the Stag Daily and so he got it. See, dreams do come true.

We would like to announce that the son of Ogi, Phidaux, is a boy.

For those in the Service Patrol who helped clean the pool, the Staff would like to thank you. We enjoyed our dip.

The official camp time is: 3:26.11am
Do you know where your Troop Guide is? HE'S ASLEEP JUST LIKE WE SHOULD BE, BUT NO! THE PAPER MUST BE COMPLETED! ALSO, THE PRESSES WERE STOPPED 6 TIMES TODAY.

We would like to announce that there is a shortage of Mountain Dew in Red Wing, so photocopies of cans are available in BP Hall.

The Radison Hotel would like to make public that a vandalism spree has swept through their building.

Yes, the funding for Troop 941 has been replenished and their gateway has been completed.

The Staff is sorry to announce that the Little Teapot fell to the bottom of the pool and shattered. So out of respect, at 9:09.58 please recite the infamous song one last time. Thank you very much.

Be on the lookout for Mr. Mangold's 6in..... cockroach. Last seen touching foot. If found please return to rightful place.

We would like announce that there was a winner of the BP 500 and the winner is: TRAVIS WALKER.

HYO;IU BG907T Sorry, we doozed off.

The Stag Daily staff has obtained copies of the White Stag Final Exam and here are some sample questions:

1. Mr. Spark's shoe size is:
a. 8 b. 8.5 c. 9 d. 9.5
2. True/False Mr. Smith's shoe size is 18.
3. This is a sample essay question.

In 300 words or more please explain why you think the 23 leadership skills are important to you.

Stag Tech Tip: Be sure to check all battery cables before starting, especially in old trucks.

We would like to ask the program patrol to say "two" in the flag ceremony before the blood runs out of our arms.

We would like to announce that flying toasters do NOT rear-end the toast in front of them, they are polite and ride in their blind spot, then pass.