

The White Stag Chronicle

Issue 3

Stag Notes:

Since all of you participants have been working so hard the past few days, the staff would like to reward all the troops. On Thursday, we will be shuttled to the Muncie Municipal Pool for a Conference swim. This is with weather pending only. If we are unable to go, then we will have a staff vs. participant volleyball tournament. Just in case you're wondering, this is serious, so please prepare your patrols with proper swimming gear. The pool will allow shorts.

- Talk-a-thon update... Nick Dilley and Paul Lewis have locked into a tie with a steady 94 hrs. 36 min. 55 sec. They have also gotten new competition, Mr. Spark's Jibber Jabber. It is a heated battle.

-The staff wants to send out its deepest sympathy to Jason Miller for breaking his foot. Get well soon!

Letter of Thanks:

Dear Patrols,

We would like to congratulate all of the patrols on the great job they have recently done on the clean-up of patrol cooking gear. Nine out of the twelve conference patrols had a 100% improvement practically overnight! This must be a conference record. In fact, some of the senior staff are so amazed, that they just couldn't go to sleep last night! So thanks a lot guys.

Sincerely,

Brandon Sparks, Travis Walker,
Andrew Peters, David Eaton, Pat Day, and Steve Ostendorf

C.J. Funk is giving classes in cosmetology. This will be held at 8:00 PM Friday. If interested please sign up for a make up case and class spot ASAP.

Any letters wanting mailed must be turned in early tomorrow because of the pool visit.

Women Population of White Stag Skyrockets

This morning God was smiling on the White Stag. We have been without women of our own age for four days. For the staff even longer. But when we awoke this morning there were women of all shapes and sizes. Their bodies were just magnificent. They did seem to remind me of a few missing staff members, but that was okay. They were still the best things at Red Wing since the Sloppy troop 954 on Sunday. The only problem was that as quick as they showed up, they disappeared. When I couldn't find any of these beautiful women, I started to cry. So in a cry for help, if you find any of the women that showed up this morning, please notify the staff. Or more specifically, Pat Day. Or if any of you know Michelle Poffenbarger's phone number please tell me. For she was a majorly bodacious babe, and a heck of a kisser!

Test Details Announced

The test scheduled for Friday June 16th, will be an open note test. It will consist of 125 multiple choice questions and 75 true, false. This will take up much of Friday afternoon so we will not inspect campsites on Thursday night, to insure campers get enough sleep. So, look over your notes to prepare. If you have any questions please talk to the test instructors, Pat Day and David Eaton. The answers will be given in troop presentations and the next newsletter.

Obituary:

Mr. Timber died today at 2:31 PM in front of B.P. Hall. The staff found him lying motionless in Hardee's patrol sight. It looked like possible murder, but no evidence has been found to prove this. The White Stag staff tried to save him, but was too late. We will have a funeral service at 8:30 am tomorrow.
