

The White Stag Chronicle

Issue 6

Ostendorf In Trouble

The Red wing Chief Justice, Ike Sedberry, has called for Steve to appear at the White Stag Supreme Court at noon.

If anyone sees Steve running around at lunch, hiding from Mr. Smith, please notify Mr. Deblois.

Pool Trip

Make sure that everyone is prepared for the trip. We will be in public, which includes females, so keep your hormones under control. The weather will be nice.

Service Patrol

Due to the neglect of the service patrols the Red Wing pool is never clean. Therefore we must leave camp to go swimming.

The official White Stag time is 11:22.59 A.M.

C.J. Funk will still hold his cosmetology seminar after the pool trip. Meet at Troop 953's tent at 8 P.M.

Funeral Service

This morning's funeral was in honor of a dear friend to us all, Jake Timber. In a beautiful service, the entire conference was asked to pass by the casket. The service was a real tear jerker for the staff. Thank you to the Zippo Patrol for your apology.

Due to overwhelming odds, Troop 951 was able to match the power of Troops 952 & 953 in a singing competition yesterday. Congrats!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

FQM's Find New Alarm Clock

Jamie Neal went to wake up Eric and Scott, but failed. It seems that when the participants arrived to get food, there was none to be found. However, Mr. Smith formed a bold plan to wake the FQM's. The participants enthusiastically agreed to the plan. They joined in unison as a singing alarm clock. Jamie is making sure they will wake up from now on by promising to dump a gallon of freezing water on them if they don't wake up!

Nature Game

During the nature game last night, diarrhea was a constant problem to the participants, what goes around comes around. There were many lightning strikes all around camp due to Hurricane Ostendorf. Due to the violent nature of staff members, there is little possibility of seeing little animals in the woods anymore.

Stag Notes:

Talk-a-thon update: Nick Dilley has dropped out of competition due to a strained tongue. Tyler Gorsuch has taken the name of Nathan. The baby sapling, saved by the staff members at last night's campfire, is being treated by MOM in the first aid lodge.

Would the owner of the forest green 1995 Corvette go to Josh Rhines to claim your keys. They were left in the ignition and he took it for a spin then kept them for safekeeping. The license plate is 97h1275.

M.MC. & C.B.